

Corporate Chics Newsletter

June 2010

Experiences ~ Encouragement ~ Empowerment

You can take any route to get to your destination, IF you follow directions to a T

Introduction

You may not know what's ahead of you in this journey called life, but with the right GPS system you will make it to your destination. We all know that when you use a GPS, all you have to do is place the address in the system and usually you end up where you want to go. You may make the wrong turn, or go through a detour, but no matter what, the GPS will still get you there. With a GPS, there are several routes to get you to your destination. And everyone doesn't have to take the same route to get where they need to go. Well, this is how life is... There are rules to everything including life and it's best to follow directions when you have them to follow. (TNG)

Empowerment

Remember these important lessons no matter which path you decide to take:

Lesson 1: Stay focus on what it is you want for your life. Without a clear vision of where you want to go or what you want to have, you will never have it. Everything starts with a thought. And Thoughts turn into things. (I knew since I took Mrs. Moss and Ms. Bryant's class I wanted to be a writer. I used to write short stories and keep a journal and now I have a published book because I had a vision that manifested itself into reality) The creators of FB started with a thought of how they could connect family and friends and now they are multi-millionaires...But it all came from a thought and actions into making it a reality.

Lesson 2: Evaluate where you are in life and if you have to re-adjust, then do so constantly. Right before you make a major decision, think about the consequences, good or bad; because consequences are built into your decisions no matter what they are.

Lesson 3: Follow directions. IF you have a GPS or a guide to where you are trying to go, follow it to a T.

EXPERIENCES

BlogLive: Atlanta

If you don't already, eventually—either for business or pleasure—you will.

Face/Forward is doing it AGAIN! We are taking the blogging bug to IRL (in real life) status by stepping out from behind our laptops and onto BlogLive: Atlanta! Face/Forward will be hosting this event at tahCha Tea House on Saturday, July 10th from 3:00pm -

5:30pm! Network with us while chatting up hot topics like social faux pas, best & worst practices, and "Hot Now" media issues. Be there promptly to meet our expert panelists specifically chosen for their expertise in business, media, and life skills.

Encouragement: Hard WORK!

The easiest way to explain hard work outside of it involving obstacles, persistence, barriers, consistency, adversity, tribulations...is to explain it with you raising both of your arms (like you are praising God) and just keeping them raised for about ten minutes without bending them. The people that drop their arms within five minutes are the people who are usually on the verge of a breakthrough but give up as soon as that break was going to happen for them. Keep pushing! Even when you don't see the manifestations of your labor, it has to harvest. Keep that at the front of your brain. But this is what Hard Work involves. Even though I haven't begin to really see the many blessings that are on the way to me financially, I continue to create this newsletter. I continue to update the website. I continue to seek opportunities in the Entertainment Industry. I can't give up! As soon as I do, I will miss out on the investment of my future. That tingling feeling that you will feel when your arms get tired is the pain that says, go ahead and put your arms down because it hurts. That's how we all feel sometimes. We feel like it's not working; it's never going to happen. It is so disappointing to keep giving something 100% but things just seem to get worse. IT hurts...but you HAVE to keep your arms raised. Because as soon as you drop them, you lose your investment.

A New York Times Best Seller!

Corporate Chics the book, is an entertaining novel about a beautiful, educated, Native American who recently graduated college and has entered the corporate world.

Through friendships with co-workers in her new role, she is on a consistent journey of learning all about life through their mistakes but most importantly her experiences. On this journey, Koilya learns vital lessons about finances, marriage, sex, love, false perceptions, envy, friendship, and infidelity. If she doesn't wake up and realize that her selfishness is the reason for the misfortune she is encountering, she could ultimately lose everything that she has worked so hard to obtain. Women from all walks of life can relate to the story and the issues it explores.

Be sure to check out the website for updates, inspiration, and events! (www.CorporateChics.net)